

Voter Registration

Victims/Survivors of Sexual Violence, Domestic Violence and Stalking

For victims/ survivors of sexual violence, domestic violence and/or stalking, registering to vote could pose considerable safety risks. There are many things to consider before registering to vote:

- If you are currently residing in a domestic violence shelter, a fixed address is not required to vote in Arizona, but a voter must be placed in a voting precinct and can be done by:
 - Satisfying general voting eligibility;
 - Listing residence as a street corner, park or non-confidential shelter on the registration form;
 - Mailing address requirements in Arizona can be satisfied by providing an administrative shelter address or P.O. Box.
- If you have an order of protection or injunction against harassment, you may request your personal information that is contained in your voter registration record be kept confidential in accordance with ARS § 16-153.
- The Address Confidentiality Program (ACP) allows victims/survivors of domestic violence offenses, sexual offenses or stalking to keep their residence addresses confidential and not accessible to the general public. Participants receive a substitute address that becomes their lawful address of record. If you are a participant in ACP or are applying to ACP do NOT register to vote online or through voter registration forms. You must register with ACP in order to have your information kept confidential. Please contact ACP for more information at (602) 542-1653 or acpinfo@azsos.gov.
- When a protected voter arrives in person at their polling place, they will be asked to use a provisional ballot.
- These protections should be part of a larger conversation around safety planning. To speak with an advocate about safety planning around voter registration and voting, please call the Arizona Coalition to End Sexual and Domestic Violence's Legal Advocacy Hotline at (602) 279-2900.
